A close-up photograph of several vertical bamboo stalks. In the foreground, two green leaves are visible, one on each side of the center. The background is dark and out of focus, making the bamboo stalks stand out.

Cover Letter

When talking about bamboo, people always think of it as a treat for pandas; a national animal of China. What many people don't know about it is that bamboo is also one of the three friends of winter. Pine, plum, and bamboo do not wither as the cold days deepen into the winter season unlike many other plants. From ancient times in China, poets and painters symbolized these three plants as steadfast, perseverance and resilience. And that is the ideal of good characteristics of me. It reminds me of everytime I have problems that need me to be as brave as I could to face them and no matter what happened, I could not lose my principles. Bamboos flourish in the wild with plenty of sunlight and water. I have passion about what I'm leaning and what will come next. I asked myself to be productive. The third thing I learned from bamboo is to objectively understand myself. Bamboo is the necessity of the most precious animal in China, and what I need to do is be the most necessity of the best group, which means I need to be as good as I can and improve myself every day in every second.

Event Planning

Chinese Students & Scholars Association

Han Dynasty dance performance - the most unforgettable performance on Chinese New Year 2013. I was the producer and planner of it.

The famous blind dating show - "If you are the one". We sold out all tickets in 2 hours. And on that day, we sucessfully helped two matches on the event. I was the producer and event-planner of the whole event.

Chinese New Year Celebration 2013 - had 17 high standard performances from in and out of campus. We received more than 1,200 signatures on sign in sheets. I was the event-planner of the whole event. President Shalala even came to the event and watched some of performance celebrating Chinese New Year with us.

Photo Manipulation

I've once watched a movie with the ending of two people standing under a tree in silhouettes and I couldn't forget that scene until now. So I chose a sunset view photo and use the art brush to make it unreal. Then I found some animals profile picture and I silhouetted them in black. I made them toward the same direction and match the path of the hill. Then I found out it's more likely an environmental friendly picture and these animals are saying "Humans have ruined our home. Where should we go next?"

Branding

I really like this brush style and it makes my logo very cool and unique. I used my initial L. W as the content of logo and continues the brush style used in phone case design. Many of my friends like the phone case and want to buy it if it becomes a real product.

Magazine Design

Real Chinese Food

Tired of Panda Express? Can't find any restaurants as good as it shows on TV? A Chinese girl named Shell will show you what is the Real Chinese food.

“ Have you ever tried Real Chinese Food? ”

I have a friend who cooks real Chinese food and is a great photographer. Her name is Shell Tu. I used her photos of her cooking to present what does real Chinese food look like in my magazine design. She currently lives in America in a small apartment with a giant kitchen. I admire her hardworking on promote Chinese food and her passion about cooking.

Chinese Food In America

During her college life here in America, Shell really missed Chinese food in her hometown. So she decided to live off-campus and cook Chinese food in her favourite kitchen.

Shell also went to famous local restaurants in both Mexico and Italy to learn from the world's best.

A close-up photograph of several oil paint tubes standing upright in a row. The tubes are made of dark glass with white labels at the top. The labels are slightly blurred, showing only the brand name 'Sennelier'. The colors of the paint visible through the glass vary from deep reds and blues to lighter yellows and greens.

Art Work
Oil Painting

I started learning oil painting three months ago in September of 2013. I enjoyed painting and fell in love with it. It improved my understanding of beauty because it's an different style of designing: it designs the whole canvas to make the painting looks perfect.
